"Storm, Night" by Kristin Goering

2022 FIELD JOURNAL

Volume XIV

This year's Signature Event, as well as the 2022 Field Journal, is dedicated to a topic that everyone's comfortable discussing, even in these tumultuous political and pandemic times: the weather. From drought to flood and sizzling hot to well below zero, Flint Hills weather is significant to the prairie and its people. Ranching, farming and day-to-day life revolve around the elements.

For the perfect storm of stories, purchase the 2022 Field Journal in the Field Journal and Flint Hills Store tents at our Signature Event.
